Short biography of Artur Löwen:

CEO, CTO and Gridhound-founder Artur Löwen has more than 20 years of experience in software development, of which he has worked more than 10 years in the energy sector. He was with the Institute for Automation of Complex Power Systems as technical employee for software development from 2013 to 2016. Leading the product development, he aims to provide maximum value to the customers.

Short biography of Dr.-Ing. Tim Schlösser:

Dr.-Ing. Tim Schlösser studied electrical engineering at the RWTH Aachen University. He was with the Institute for Automation of Complex Power Systems as a research associate from 2012 to 2019. He joined Gridhound GmbH in 2019 where he manages customer projects. Having the customer's view comes in handy for his role as product owner.
